Papal Nuncio To Visit Cavan

Tomorrow Monday 29 June 2020, is the feast day of St Peter and Paul. It is also the first day in months that we will be able to gather for the celebration of a public Mass. So it is a happy day and we are privileged that the Papal Nuncio, the Pope's representative in Ireland, Archbishop Jude Thaddeus Okolo, will celebrate the 10am Mass in the Cathedral of St Patrick and St Felim in Cavan on that morning. You may link into this Mass on <https://www.churchservices.tv/cavancathedral>

Mass Intentions: I'm conscious that a number of Mass intentions were not fulfilled in recent weeks due to the cancellation of Masses. I would appreciate it if you could contact me in your own time to rearrange your Mass intentions.

Fr. Sean

First Friday Confessions: The Sacrament of Reconciliation will be available after Mass on Friday evening in Kilnavart Church.

First Friday Visitation: I hope to resume my First Friday calls this week. I will ensure that all the hygiene protocols are adhered to including the wearing of a face mask. I know some of you may not be ready to receive outside callers just yet, so I will ring each of you before I call to see if you would like a visit at this time.

Fr. Sean

The Blessing of the Graves will not take place in our parish this summer. They may take place later in November if conditions continue to improve. Fr Sean will bless the graves privately in Templeport on the 26th July and in Corlough on the 11th August. These ceremonies will be recorded and posted on the Parish Facebook page.

Re-scheduled First Holy Communion dates.

First Holy Communion ceremonies will hopefully take place throughout the country in October. It has been a difficult time for our young parishioners.

The following provisional dates will be confirmed in September:

October 3rd: Corlough - 12 noon

October 10th: Kilnavart - 11am

October 17th: Bawnboy - 12 noon.

Public Worship It is wonderful news that the Churches in the parish will re-open for public worship from tomorrow, the 29th of June. The churches must re-open in a safe way. People returning to Mass should not be fearful. Everything is being done to ensure your comfort and safety and with good practice in place there should be no risk involved.

- The dispensation from Sunday and Holy Day obligation is extended for the time being. It is important that no one feels under pressure to return to Mass at this time. Some people may feel more comfortable going to a mid-week Mass instead of a Sunday Mass.

- It goes without saying that those who feel unwell or have any of the Covid-19 symptoms or have been in recent contact with someone with Covid-19 should not attend Mass.

- Numbers will be limited due to the 2-metre social distancing rule that is currently in place. 75 people in Corlough, 60 people in Bawnboy and 50 people in Kilnavart can safely be accommodated in each church.

- People from the same household are asked to sit together, even if they travel separately, as this will increase the capacity of each church.

- The outdoor speakers will be left on for those who cannot gain access.

- When you arrive at Mass on Sunday, you will be welcomed at the door and ushers will guide you to your place.

- Each church will have sanitiser dispensers in place. People are asked to sanitise their hands as they enter and exit the church.

- Holy Water fonts will not be in use for the time being.

- All collections will take place before Mass. You can place your offerings in the collection box at the door.

- You will collect your own leaflet and newsletter on the way into Mass and bring it with you at the end of Mass.

- People must keep physically distant from each other - this means that you will most likely not be able to sit in your normal seat.

- The front seats will be filled first.

- The traditional Sign of Peace will be omitted.

- The procession for Holy Communion should take place in an orderly fashion, while at all times observing the rules of social distancing.

- It is recommended that people receive Holy Communion on the hand.

- Priests and Eucharistic Ministers will wash their hands immediately before Mass. They will sanitise them immediately before distributing Communion and will sanitise them again afterwards. They will wear face-masks during the distribution of Communion to protect those receiving Communion.

- People can make a Spiritual Communion if they feel uncomfortable receiving Communion at this time.

- People will exit the church in an orderly fashion and will be asked to follow the direction of the ushers.
